

What are some custom network cabinet manufacturers in Ireland

Article Overview

Several Irish companies specialize in custom network and data cabinets, offering tailored solutions for server rooms, data centers, and IT infrastructure.

Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

Wood Communications Ltd is a leading distributor of networking products in Ireland, providing data cabinets, server racks, and custom network solutions. They focus on delivering products according to customer specifications with professional support and timely delivery across Ireland and Europe . RWL Advanced Solutions offers a wide range of cabinets, including comms cabinets, full load-rated server cabinets, and bespoke cooled cabinets designed to client requirements. They also provide open racks, cable management systems, and hot/cold aisle containment solutions, working closely with manufacturers to create tailored designs . DCT Limited manufactures and installs hot and cold aisle containment, server racks, security caging, and custom data center cabinets. They supply co-location and hyperscale data centers, offering precision-engineered solutions and installation services. DCT partners with global manufacturers like Rittal, CPI, and Legrand to provide custom solutions with short lead times . Satcity.ie supplies high-quality comms and data cabinets in Ireland, including wall-mounted and floor-standing models. Their cabinets feature lockable doors, cable management, and ventilation, suitable for patch panels, switches, and routers. They offer fast nationwide delivery and are ideal for both small office setups and large-scale commercial projects .

Additional Options: For broader custom cabinetry needs, companies like Max. Clinical Cabinets, Custom Wood Designs, and DC Woodworks provide bespoke solutions for professional environments, including tailored storage and furniture systems that can be adapted for network or IT equipment .

Considerations When Choosing a Manufacturer

- o Customization: Ensure the manufacturer can design cabinets to your specific size, cooling, and security requirements.
- o Compatibility: Check that cabinets support your networking equipment, including patch panels, switches, and servers.
- o Installation Services: Some suppliers, like DCT, provide full installation and containment solutions.
- o Delivery and Support: Fast delivery and responsive customer service are crucial for minimizing downtime in IT environments. These manufacturers provide a range of options for businesses in Ireland seeking custom network cabinets, from standard server racks to fully bespoke, climate-controlled, and secure enclosures.
